Life Coaching and Personal Development

Each session is up to 90 minutes - $220 session

4 x Sessions - $835

6 x Sessions - $1200

This is not the Life you see advertised in the Health Section of Magazine and Newspapers everywhere. Fountainhead mind body connection Life Coaches have all done their training on Holistic Healing under Greg Neville N. D. and were then trained by Michelle Mark our Life coach's coach here at Fountainhead. Our life coaching helps you look forward, not backward with refreshed energy and a new beginning to the issues and relationships in your life. Goal is to prioritise objectives.  Must be booked 5 days in advance to ensure a Life Coach is available at the time of making your Retreat booking to guarantee sessions. This is very, very popular. Our methods are particularly helpful in understanding depressive illness, cancer and addictions. Ask your host if we can help with your particular health issue, (over 60 health issue specifics covered).*

Session One: A series of very personal questions to establish your belief system. Let's establish where you are at. This is a session of real reflection.

Session Two: The Holistic cause and cure of your particular illness explained. By establishing your beliefs, (session one) we now explain how and why this must change for your illness to lift. Session two is the essence of holistic healing.

Session Three: Real Self Esteem Explained. Unlike the popular success model we will show you how your worth is measured accurately. This is a great lesson to be shared with children. When you feel you are "not worth much" this will completely change your mind.

Session Four: Meditations for your particular health issue. We will explain the correct usage of Meditation and dismiss many new age and ancient eastern fallacies. A recap on what you have learnt so far, ensuring clear understanding. Then together with your life coach design your meditation, and then be guided through it. You're to keep forever.

Session Five: If you have a second health issue, (besides the primary we are treating) you can book a session five where we go back into the holistic causes and cure of your secondary health issue.

Last Session: A recap of any others sessions you may have done. The Life Coach will ensure your full understanding of everything you have learnt with Fountainhead and with you plan your return home. Together you will discuss how you were looking at life prior to your visit and what new ideas you now have in your arsenal of Wisdom.
